Introducing Women&Co

The world is at a tipping point and the future depends on women reaching their full potential. When women have the power to create and lead, life gets better for everyone.

But they need a leadership seat at the innovation table. Women&Co is the springboard to get her there faster.

Innovation to unlock opportunities for women.

Pathfinder is starting a bold next chapter. Women&Co focuses on reducing systemic barriers and unlocking innovation so women can drive a better future for society and the environment.

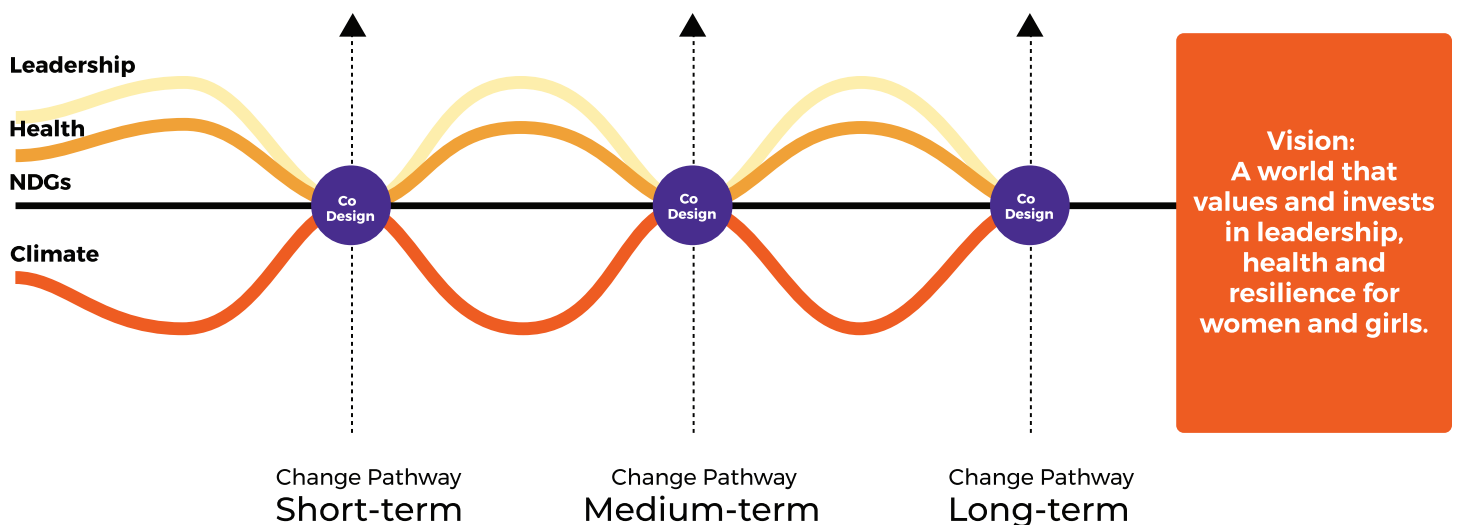

Our community includes women innovators, change makers and leaders who come together to co-design sustainable solutions and businesses for women to lead.

We collaborate across systems, communities and experts, nurturing ecosystems that turbocharge women-led impact.

Our innovation approach

We focus on women's leadership, health and climate - placing our innovation model at the intersections.

Women&Co's innovation takes place through co-design, typically building a set of interventions and innovations for each Pathway.
